Subject: Caitlyn's Courage wrong choice for your support

Good morning,
I read an article yesterday explaining the $3.5 million you are supporting for the group Caityln's Courage. While I support money for proven domestic violence intervention programs, this group has a limited history, no proven background that they would succeed, and they have connections to private money that would easily launch their product. They should not be given our tax dollars.

I believe it is reckless to spend the money for a single project such as this, when you have proven domestic violence programs already in place in Pitt County and in the nearby regions. Give your support to those proven non-profits and allow them to expand their work. Thank you for listening to your constituents.
