All:

I made a mistake on the August's calendars and left off the 29th through 31st. The good news is on some this gives another day or two of extra duty. I will fix them and put them back up with everyone's names where they belong.

In other news, the elementary school duty is coming back, starting 17 August. For all of August, they are asking that you do your four hours at the start of the day, as soon as the car rider lines start. They also want you visible to the drop-off area, in case there are any issues because it will be slow going since they have to take every child's temperature. That sign up will be posted immediately. Still no Wednesdays and signed timesheets need to be to me no later than the Monday after you work, at 0900. This is due to a payroll requirement from the schools.

Any questions, please text or email me since I will be in Charlotte for a while and might not be able to answer the phone.

Stay safe!
