James Hampton has put in a request for an instructor class titled 4-day less lethal ICP at Isothermal Community College. The registration is $895. Because that community college is a little less than 2 hours away, he would need to stay the night, thereby bringing per diem, hotel, etc. Looking at his totals, he has used $1,072 for training purposes since September of last year. I'll defer this decision to you.

I've attached the training request and info to this email.
