This is Matilda Bliss's Paetreon page. She and David Forbes claim that you are pulling something over on white-iberals who don't know what time it is in the black community, you know, the way they do. They called you a liar by saying you said the call to defund the police was 100% white, which you did not say not at all no you didn't but you already know that. They cast doubt on whether or not you actually talked to black residents in Hillcrest by saying you "claimed" that happened. And of course they claim that you somehow stole the seat that Shenieka nominated you for and everything that happened in that process went down on-point by way of the City Charter which offered absolutely no chance for an election to be held to fill Vijay's vacancy. Period. I'm sure Brad Branham can be quite clear about that, but I'd rather not bring any of that up at City Council because 1) I have something more interesting to use my 3 minutes on, and 2) Brad really wouldn't be obligated to answer me if I asked. The amount of misinformation and misdirected invective that The Asheville Blade puts out is crazy. They shouldn't even be given press credentials and they are BFFs with Kim Roney. Same hit-squad that went after Sage. The chick that's all Bout Being Bout Being Better (Kim's dumbass campaign slogan as she dragged around Nichole Townsend like a human bottle of hot-sauce to spice up her cracker), has the most vile little hissy-fit hit-squad. Councilwoman Kim Roney is now claiming she is "hearing calls from the community" for the Department of Equity and Inclusion (which currently exists with one substitute staffer) to report directly to Council. That can't happen without a change to the City Charter. There is no way in hell the NCGA would tolerate use selectively having departments report to Council. That would, in essence, dismantle the Council-Manager form of government described by the charter. I bet Brad could clarify that too. Kim's claims that the community is calling for this is total bullshit. We live in the same neighborhood. I'm in our corner store, The Gas-Up, every day. I know several of the business owners on Haywood Road. I work on Haywood Road. No one is happy about the lack of cops. At all. And certainly word on the street is not that the DEI needs to be reporting to Council directly .What "community" is calling for that? No one is talking about that at all. That's a concocted call to action that Kim wants to be able to take the lead on, there's zero chance of that happening, and all it does is erode confidence in Manager Campbell. Aside from the TDA funding the Reparations Speaker Series (which was probably not her idea and not something she could say no to) I think she's doing a decent job managing this circus.

You might want to know that Sheneika is still listed as a contributing writer at the Asheville Blade . It's a bad look in general for someone on Council to be a member of the press. Kim had to step away from Asheville FM (she was a founder and the News Director until she became a council candidate in 2017). David Forbes was Asheville FM's go-to for local reporting for a quick second. Sheneika really needs to break up with David Forbes and that whole crowd. She chose the wrong allies and got duped.She should be furious with David and Matilda's attack on you. Hopefully she can use this to see who they really are...
