That concerned a different matter: of local action or lack thereof on a potential ordinance. Since then a state law has been passed with new provisions specifically affecting government facilities, among other things.

Thanks for following up on this and if the city of Asheville has a statement on that, please let me know asap, or let me know if one is forthcoming.

Best,

David

Thanks for checking if the city will issue any further response.

Hi David,

The City addressed this issue earlier this month:

I will check to see if there is anything further but as you can see from this communication, no action is planned on this matter by the City of Asheville.

Good morning y'all, hope you're doing well. Does the city have an official statement on HB2 and its effects (I.e. the restroom provisions for gov facilities) yet? I know UNCA and some other institutions have issued one, but hadn't seen one from the city on the blog or via email yet. Thanks for clarifying this.

Best,

David
