Good afternoon,

I hope you are doing well. I have attached the document that outlines the district's communication about synchronous instruction for students. I hope this helps.

All the best,

Joy

Hi, Joy,

I hope your week is off to a good start. I hear the weather has turned a little crisp there.

Can you provide some clarification as to district expectations for student cameras and mics being on during live teaching time? Some teachers have stated that they're not allowed to have student cameras on during synchronous learning, so they can't see who's responding or even focusing during the lesson. Due to sound feedback from the mics, students are asked to have their mics off as well, unless a specific student is called on. This is making it very difficult for them to assess who is participating, as well as errors.

I'm thinking that maybe this is an issue with how the teachers are interpreting the district guidance. Can teachers require students to leave their cameras on at their discretion during Skills instruction?

Thanks,

Tiffany Parker

Subject: TRC Readability Analysis

Hi all,

Previously we discussed looking at the TRC passages to determine any issues and plan next steps. There's currently a conflict between CKLA's instructional sequence, which emphasizes decoding, and the TRC's heavy reliance on sight words at the emergent reader levels.

There are two documents attached to this email. The first is an analysis of every TRC title used to assess students' reading skills in grades K-2. It's lengthy, but it's meant to serve as guidance to inform next steps if the district determines that supplemental instruction is needed. The second file lists the specific words that are problematic for students, given CKLA's sequence of code instruction, and their frequency within the various tested passages.

Based on the current readability levels of the titles used for testing in grades K and 1 on the TRC, and the district's current report card expectations that students must place at a minimal leveled reader level to be considered on grade level for reading, we should probably plan for supplementing instruction if leveled readers will continue to be used next year to determine student progress. Perhaps we can take some time during our upcoming planning meeting on May 4th to discuss this.

In the meantime, please feel free to reach out to me with any questions or concerns about the documents.

Looking forward to seeing you again next week,

It was a pleasure to see you again. Thank you for taking the time to meet this morning to debrief about this year's implementation and discuss next steps. I am looking forward to reviewing the schools' EOY DIBELS results and continuing our collaboration.

Once you have an idea of the schools you would like to extend support to next year and the amount budgeted for this support, please forward the information to me and I'll draft a proposal for your review. It's not as important to know the exact school names, just the number of schools. This will assist with determining an appropriate amount of onsite coaching days. I have another consultant's onsite assignments on hold pending the dates needed, but specific date requests are starting to come in, so the sooner I can get tentative dates scheduled for GCPS, the better.

Per our conversation, the following summer training sessions would be ideal for the schools I'll be supporting:

Foundational Training - 6 sessions total (12 days)

Two 2-day sessions per grade level

It's preferable to have the principals attend one of these sessions with their teachers, but if that would be too difficult to coordinate we could also arrange to do a separate 1-day overview training just for the principals of the schools I'll be working with. This doesn't necessarily have to occur over the summer, but I've usually found principals to be more receptive and less distracted during summer sessions (provided school isn't starting the following week). CFs should attend the teacher sessions, not the principal sessions, if separate sessions are offered.

Differentiated Support Training - 2 sessions total (2 days)

Two 1-day training sessions (6-7 hours each):

-Differentiated Small Group Instruction

-Teacher assistant training on CKLA sounds pronunciation, signaling, and assisting with decodable readers

Refresher and Extension Training - 2 sessions total (1 day)

Two half-day training sessions (3-4 hours):

- K/1 refresher training on using decodable readers
- Developing students' handwriting proficiency (focusing on building speed and legibility)

Once I know what the district's training window is, we can determine how best to schedule the sessions. I would prefer to do the training myself instead of some concurrent sessions, just so I can start to establish relationships with the teachers prior to the onsite coaching visits commencing. But I'm also aware that you have constraints to work with.

Thanks again for your time today. I look forward to continuing our collaboration.

Best wishes,

Tiffany Parker

Hi, Joy,

We did indeed enjoy this weather's weekend with some outdoor time that, fortunately, did not involve any weeding. I hope you were able to do the same.

I have attached a revised proposal that encompasses the information below. The total cost would be $700,000, and the breakdown is on page 9. This includes four of the 2-day introductory training sessions for the 3 grade levels, as well as the 3 additional days of supplemental training for the existing 3 schools and teacher assistants, for a total of 27 training days and 125 onsite coaching days.

Feel free to call me with any questions.

Happy Monday!

Hi, Tiffany.

Thank you for this information. For the second coaching option, I would like to know the cost for you to work with 25 schools total (3 from last year and 22 new schools). We would need to add two more sets of summer training days for the 22 new schools. In order to be consistent I would like to keep the 5 face-to-face days and 3 virtual visits per school for this proposal, knowing that the virtual coaching would count as hours available to teachers as needed across schools. For this proposal, I really only need the total cost to go in the document I am preparing. Please let me know if you have any questions.

I hope you are doing well and enjoying some comfortable spring weather. ☺•

Subject: Re: Professional Learning for GCS

Hi Joy,

It's good to hear from you. It's not a problem whatsoever if you'd like me to draft another proposal for your second option.

Just let me know.

The cost for coaching services per school is really just dependent on the number of coaching visits you feel each school needs. I had based last week's proposal on 5 onsite days at each school (because the schools were identified as low-performing and we were picking up 2nd grade this year), plus virtual coaching time to check in with the teachers who need support in between visits. Virtual coaching days are flexible - they're not billed by school but by time. So, if we were focusing on a skill for 2nd grade teachers, one virtual coaching day might be used to coach 12 teachers from 4 different schools. Since it's billed by time, not school, it would count as one virtual coaching day, not 3. So the proposal is based off of 5 onsite days and 3 virtual coaching days per school, but the virtual coaching days have flexibility in how they're used throughout the year. Each onsite day is billed at $3500 per day. Virtual coaching days are billed at $1600 per day.

It's just a matter of identifying how many onsite coaching visits you think each added school would need, along with virtual coaching time. If you wanted to duplicate the plan within the proposal I sent to you last week and add on an additional 10 schools, then it would be an additional 50 onsite coaching days ($175,000) and 30 virtual coaching days ($48,000), for a total of $223,000. The only other added cost would be if we needed to expand the foundational training sessions because we'd exceed 35 teachers per session.

If you feel that some of the added schools could get by with 3 onsite visits and then just bump up the virtual coaching time for them because it's more cost-effective, then I'd figure on 3 onsite days and 4 or 5 virtual coaching days per school. I wouldn't do only virtual coaching for a school, as it's important to build relationships and trust during onsite visits.

Let me know if you'd like me to send you a second proposal. I'd just need to know how many added schools, how many onsite coaching days you'd like each school to have, and how many virtual coaching sessions you'd like each teacher to have.

I hope you had a lovely Mother's Day with your daughter.

I met with Dr. Oakley this morning and she would like for me to develop two options for the superintendent to review for literacy professional learning for next year. Is there an easy way for me to determine the cost for your coaching services per school? For example, if I present an option that includes 20 schools instead of 10, is there a way for me to determine the increase in the cost without you having to redo the entire PO?

I hope you are staying healthy. Thank you for sending along content for CKLA. We have established a structure within the district to post content for the next week by Wednesday at midnight EST. We are working to prepare the content you have previously sent for K-2. I just wanted you to know we will only be able to post the items we receive from you by noon tomorrow for teachers to access next week. That will give us time to get it formatted and put it in Canvas according to the timeline we have communicated with teachers. Hello, Tiffany.

I hope you are doing well and enjoying nice weather in San Diego. We are working to get everything in place with the Title I budget for next year and I need to provide a cost breakdown by school for the Crosswalk contract for next year. The large contract includes the 9 schools below and I have a separate contract for Washington Elementary. I need the cost per school for the 9 schools in the large contract. Should I divide the total by 9 or is there a difference in price for new schools versus schools you worked with last year? Thanks for assisting with this information and have a great evening.

Good afternoon,

I just wanted to let you know the training for late hires in October can only be one day (October 9th). We cannot train teachers on October 10th because it is a school day for students. I know this will make training difficult, but I wanted to make sure you were aware. Thank you.

Good afternoon, I really enjoyed your training! I am in the process of renewing my license & need the ceu's from this course ASAP! Do you know when it will be posted to GCs or possibly have a certificate of completion I can show to personnel?

Thanks in advance

Hi, Joy,

Yes, when we had our first meeting I explained that if the school felt like they needed to start before 11:00 they could. Bessemer is doing that this Friday. The person who inquired about this may have been referring back to the original email I had sent for our first school coaching visit, which had 11:00 as the requested start time for that visit. But during our MCL/Admin meeting time during our first visit I told the schools that they could start before 11:00 if it was going to be problematic and go as late as they wanted.

The meeting links were sent to the schools at the beginning of the year - we'll use them all year. Here's a compiled list:

The schools create their own schedules based on what we decide as focus areas for each grade level and then send me a copy. At this point, we're generally scheduling individual coaching time with each teacher. I've attached the current calendar of coaching dates as they've been confirmed. These do not include the special ed consultation dates with the other consultants because there was a request to hold off on scheduling them for a bit.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Hello,

I hope you are doing well as we all wait to learn the final results for elected offices in our country. I am writing to check in about a concern from a school about the time of service for coaching. Is it possible for schools to begin the visits before 11 am EST, so they can maximize the day and use the full time. This will allow for principals to create schedules that maximize the coaching day. Thank you for letting me know.

Also, the team and I would like to have access to the links for coaching visits so we can join them as calendars allow. Do you have comprehensive document with scheduled days you can share or will you share the links as you send them to schools? If schools are creating the links and sharing them with you, please let us know and we will reach out to them for access.

Thanks so much for your continued partnership.

Hi Joy,

It's good to meet you virtually as well. Thanks for the intro, Kate. Apologies for my delayed response.

We are absolutely delighted that the Guilford County schools would like to use the OER Grade 4 & 5 CKLA units that we field tested in Sullivan County, TN! We are in the process of revising these units to incorporate the feedback that we received from the Sullivan County teachers and TNTP.

Also, for your information, we are just beginning conceptualizing and creating Grades

6-8 CKLA; we anticipate that these units will be available starting sometime in 2021. If you think you might be interested in field testing those units as they are developed, please let me know.

Here are the Grade 4 – 5 units at each grade level in the order in which we recommend that they be taught.

I have also indicated when the revised Teacher Guides and Activity Pages will be available for you to download from our website. Please refer to this list of units and these projected dates of availability on our website before you download and print materials for any unit, so that you are sure to download the revised units that include Sullivan County's feedback. As you probably know, for some units, you will need to purchase copies of the book for teachers and students. I have included some notes as to which titles are Core Knowledge publications, available for purchase through the Core Knowledge Foundation.

Please let me know if you have any questions and keep us abreast of your implementation. Good luck!!!

Sincerely,

Linda Bevilacqua

Hi, Linda.

It is nice to virtually meet you. We would like to learn more about using the pilot units for CKLA. We print CKLA materials for our district and have 4 schools that would like to use the units in 4th grade and 3 schools that would like to use the units in 5th grade. Please let me know next steps to learn more about the units and whether or not we can have access to them. Thank you.

Hi Linda,

I hope all is well and you and your family are still safe and well!

I am reaching out to connect you with Joy Cantey, the Director of K-12 Literacy in Guilford County Schools. Guilford County is another partner of TNTP's and I believe they have a small subset of elementary schools interested in piloting CKLA in fourth and fifth grade. They have some questions about the availability of open-source units so I thought it made sense to connect you both.

Joy, I'll let you take it from here.

We've had a productive coaching week. The principals at Cone, Oak View, and Northwood shadowed most classroom sessions, which was wonderful support for the teachers. I didn't see Fairview's principal during Monday's visit because his SSO was meeting with him. Tomorrow's at Hampton. Principal Kennedy attended my summer session so I'm sure she'll be very involved.

Subject: Proposal for Restart Schools Support

I hope that you had an enjoyable day with your family today. I've attached a proposal and price quote for next year's implementation with the Restart schools for your consideration. It factors and price quote for next year's implementation with the rest of schools for year consideration. It factors in the 5 onsite coaching days and virtual coaching days per school, and 26 days for training sessions for the new and experienced teachers.

Based on implementation issues noted in some of the classrooms this year, the following is suggested for new and experienced teacher training:

New Schools/ Teachers Foundational Training 18 days

- Two 3-day summer sessions for Kindergarten teachers and two 2-day summer sessions for 1st and 2nd grade teachers who are at the new schools and new teachers at the existing schools (14 days)
- One 2-day session combined K-2 to be held in October for late hires (2 days)
- One 2-day session combined K-2 to be held in January for late hires (2 days)

I'd like to expand the two summer sessions of new Kindergarten teacher foundational training to 3 days, if possible, to allow for more supervised practice time and corrective feedback and then continue to use 2-day training sessions for the 1st and 2nd grade teachers. Based on observing the Kindergarten teachers' practice during last summer's training, as well as their implementation this year, they would benefit from having more practice time working with sounds and word attack than the 2 days allow for. An October training session is proposed, in addition to the January session, since the schools I worked with this year had a number of teachers hired/transferred to their positions the first few weeks of school (and we ended up adding a fall session). The proposed October and January sessions would be kept to 2 days because of the issues schools have in obtaining substitute teachers.

All Schools (New and Experienced) Training 4 days

- Differentiated Intervention: Two 1-day sessions - one for K/1 teachers and one for 2nd grade teachers (2 days total). Teachers will learn how to use available assessment data to identify critical skill gaps and plan effective, differentiated small group instruction and independent center activities that will provide students ample opportunities to practice the skills that require remediation or enrichment and accelerate student learning.
- Supplemental Support: Two 1-day sessions for K teacher assistants (2 days total). Teacher assistants will learn how to provide support around phonemic awareness, letter sounds, and word reading during small group intervention time.

Returning Schools/ Experienced Teacher Training 4 days

- Supporting Fluency, Vocabulary, and Comprehension Using the CKLA Student Reader: One 1-day session per grade level (3 days total). Teachers will examine specific stories within the CKLA student reader to identify opportunities to provide students with improved practice to strategically apply background knowledge, vocabulary knowledge, and understanding of the language structures that exist between words and within sentences. Fluency supports will also be discussed.
- Developing Handwriting Fluency: One 1-day training session for teachers at Cone, Falkener, Hampton, Fairview, and Washington (1 day total) to discuss the research support around developing students' accuracy and speed in handwriting, instructional methods and activities, and means of assessment.

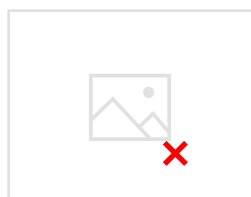

Feel free to call me tomorrow if you have any questions. Even though weather-wise it looks like you'll be stuck indoors tomorrow, hopefully you can still take a break from work and recharge.

Good afternoon, Tiffany.

I hope your week in Guilford is going well. We need to combine your proposals and include all rank order Title I schools on one proposal. The proposals and contracts I currently have are for

- The 9 rank order Title I elementary schools
- The 10th rank order school (Washington)

The Title I office would like for all 10 schools to be on the same proposal. Will you send me one quote with all 10 schools combined? I will redo the contract and get it back to you so we can move forward with processing. On the quote use rank order and not lowest performing when you determine the schools. Thank you so much for always being willing to revise documents so that we can get everything processed.

Hi, Joy,

Responses from principals are still trickling in, but I wanted to provide you with an update as to which schools have confirmed a preference for CKLA in 3rd grade next year. The principals of Bessemer, Cone, Gillespie Park, Kirkman Park, Parkview, and Washington have confirmed that they would like to implement it next year.

Washington have confirmed that they would like to implement it next year.

Bessemer: 3rd grade CKLA

Bluford: Keep ARC

Cone: 3rd-5th grade CKLA

Fairview: Keep ARC

Falkener: Haven't yet heard back from the principal

Gillespie Park: 3rd grade CKLA

Kirkman Park: 3rd grade CKLA

Montlieu: Keep ARC

Northwood: Keep ARC

Oak View: Haven't yet heard back from the principal

Parkview: 3rd grade CKLA

Peck: Keep ARC

Washington: 3rd grade CKLA

Wiley: Haven't yet heard back from the principal

I spoke with Robin at Wiley about a week ago, and she was talking with the teachers about their preference, but I haven't heard any official word. Since Mrs. Bare is leaving Oak View, I'm assuming that the school will maintain ARC, but you may have heard something else. I don't anticipate a change at Falkener either, but I'll reach out again to Dr. Draper.

Happy Memorial Day!

Thanks for the info. I'll let the schools know about the subs. Could we go with Thursday, January 17th for the training? Would the time be 8:00 to 3:00? Also, do you have a location in mind for session?

We will not be covering subs for this training, since we are not covering subs for the mid-year ARC training or the mid-year CKLA training with TNTP.

Thanks so much and in case you have not heard we may have some white stuff falling from the sky this Sunday and Monday. 😞

Subject: Additional Training Session

Hello,

I hope you enjoyed the weekend. I'm just checking in to follow up on our conversation about offering another training session. I've heard back from most of the schools, and there's currently a total of 9 teachers the schools would like to have trained:

Cone: Hill (K) and Whitehead (1st grade)

Fairview: Johnson (2nd grade)

Montlieu: Ayers (K) and Moss (K)

Northwood: Pegram (K)

Oak View: Jennifer LaMonte and Addison Lawrimore

Peeler: Brittany Pettiford (1st grade)

All classroom teachers at Falkener and Hampton have been trained. I haven't heard back yet from Gillespie Park, Bluford, and Washington.

Do you have an idea of how you'd like to proceed?

Also, just as an FYI, the schools have asked if the district will be providing subs.

Thanks,

Tiffany Parker

Hi, Joy,

It seems like I finally caught a break in the weather department for the coaching visits this week next week. I'm knocking on wood as I write this just as insurance...

I wanted to touch base with you about Bluford/Peeler's plan for a corrective intervention read block because it will impact their implementation of CKLA. I was able to talk to Todd briefly about when he was helping me set up for yesterday's training session. Do you have some time for a call either tomorrow after 3:00 or anytime next week after the school visits?

Hone all is well

Hi, Joy,

I hope your week is off to a good start. I hear the weather has turned a little crisp there.

Can you provide some clarification as to district expectations for student cameras and mics being on during live teaching time? Some teachers have stated that they're not allowed to have student cameras on during synchronous learning, so they can't see who's responding or even focusing during the lesson. Due to sound feedback from the mics, students are asked to have their mics off as well, unless a specific student is called on. This is making it very difficult for them to assess who is participating, as well as errors.

I'm thinking that maybe this is an issue with how the teachers are interpreting the district guidance. Can teachers require students to leave their cameras on at their discretion during Skills instruction?

Thanks,

Tiffany Parker

Hi, Tiffany.

I spoke to Joy and Avery and gave them an update about materials to make sure I knew what they were looking for in terms of materials. I knew the 4th and 5th grade teacher materials were shipped in June, so I wanted to make sure they had those. The student work books were delivered yesterday. The books they are looking for are third grade teacher materials and those are being delivered next week.

I need a proposal for the work with the other 3 schools, so I can identify a separate funding source for them.

Hi, there. Those changes are fine with me. You can work with the individual schools to confirm the changes work. Thanks for checking. Hello, Tiffany.

I hope you are doing well and staying healthy this summer. I wanted to schedule a time to check-in with you about a couple of things:

- videos for skills lessons at the beginning of the year
- EC programming

You may also have some things to add to those topics. Do you have anytime this week to schedule a call? If so, please send me a couple of options. Thanks for letting me know.

On another note - payment hasn't yet been received for the previous invoice that was submitted on October 25th. Usually the district is quite prompt in issuing a check, so I'm wondering if something got held up in the approval process. Could you check on the status of the payment for that invoice for me?

Happy Monday, Joy,

I'm sorry I'm delayed in getting back to you. I took a look at the various samples and scope and sequence of ISPIRE/SPIRE on School Speciality's website and don't see anything that would be too conflicting or problematic with CKLA. But note that, with exception of teaching the basic short vowel spellings and digraphs in Level 1, it assumes students already know basic code. It doesn't teach single consonants in isolation, according to the scope and sequence that's posted on the website. So it may be too high for some K-2 students.

Sounds Sensible is supposed to be used for the students who don't have knowledge of single consonant spellings. But Sounds Sensible does not appear to be sold as a digital component, nor incorporated within iSpire. So it may be worth looking into using an alternative digital program for K-2nd grade students who still need work with basic code.

Let me know if you have any questions,

Good morning,

I'll be sending in the five newest 2nd grade videos, ensuring that you're cc'd, but K and 1 will be delayed as the lesson presenter in the videos was recently diagnosed with suspected Coronavirus. As you can imagine, this has thrown a wrench in the plans. We had paused reco plans. We had paused recordings over the weekend because she had been feeling a bit under the weather, and we knew that spring break was next week, so we thought we had a little cushion of time.

She's not severe enough to need hospitalization, but she's in no condition to record. We're going to see how she comes along over the next few days, and, if she's still feeling poorly, then we'll make alternate plans to complete the videos by next Wednesday.

Sorry for the inconvenience, and thank you for your patience.

Ok, that'll work. Either the 10th or the 12th after school will work on my end for the follow up meeting after Joy and I meet - whatever fits best within Joy's schedule.

While Heggerty would be a good fit for PA support in both regular ed and EC, I don't think the Core Teaching Reading Sourcebook is explicit or systematic enough for the EC teachers to use as a primary source for lessons. The EC teachers will need something that's highly-detailed with sequential directions/activities so phonics skills are taught systematically, and the "How" section within the Sourcebook doesn't provide this level of explicitness. Joy and I can discuss more next week.

Since we are going with the 9 lowest performing schools I am assuming we will use the data we now have to determine rather than waiting on data for this school year. I do need to confirm that with Oakley on Monday. If she gives me the go ahead then I will share the 9 schools with you. Enjoy your weekend.

I may have let the cat out of the bag during yesterday phone conversation about master scheduling with Dr. Smith at Bessemer - she didn't know anything about the switch from TNTF (but she said that it was very possible that she may have overlooked email because it's been so busy lately). I thought I'd check before Dr. Gregory returns my call.

Fingers crossed we are all finished with winter weather. One invoice per month is fine. Please send one for January and February when you get a chance.

Hi, Joy,

I'm loving the weather here this evening! It's much warmer than California has been, and I see the trees are really starting to show off. We've actually had a winter this year which was a nice change, but I'm ready for spring to show up.

I wanted to check in about the 2nd semester work. Was I supposed to be sending an invoice for each trip? Or did you want me to send one invoice as I did for the 1st semester work? We're wrapping up the onsite days. After this Friday there will only be 3 onsite days remaining. I can't believe how quickly this school year has flown by.

Good afternoon, Joy and Megan,

I hope your week is off to a productive start. I'd like to propose that we schedule the schools' onsite visits for the 2018-2019 school year for the following dates:

September 10-14

September 24-28

October 8-12

October 22-26

November 5-9

December 3-7

January 28-February 1

February 25-March 1

March 11-15

April 29-May 3

I based them off of the attached FY19 traditional school year calendar (hopefully it's the correct one). Will these dates work on your end? If so, then I'll begin to draft a schedule for virtual coaching around the onsite visits.

Thanks for your patience. I'm sorry I didn't catch the fact that the contract was based off of the August 13th quotes instead of the August 30th quotes - it never even occurred to me. There was only $100 difference between the two in the total cost, which is probably why it slipped my notice.

I think we're all set. Let's just make sure that the services below for the Year 1 schools match up to your records.

We had planned 19 days for summer training ($66,500), 35 onsite coaching days ($122,500), and 33 job-embedded support days ($52,800) for the Year 1 schools, for a total of $241,800. $148,600 was paid under the recent contract, so $93,200 will be due for services in the second semester. Do these figures match yours? I have attached a revised quote for second semester services to replace the previous second semester quote that I sent to you on August 31st.

There were no differences in the versions for the Year 2 schools - and those services have been paid in full.

Hopefully I got it straight this time...

Hi Doria,

I'm planning on getting guidance for this year to the schools within a week. I'll also be creating something for them for next year, but it will take a little longer to get that done.

We're just going to go with the premise of it's fine to introduce sight words as long as the students have already learned the basic code sound for each letter in the word. I think that's a good compromise that the K teachers will work with us on. But a word won't be taught if the most common sound for any one of the letters in the word hasn't yet been introduced. The teachers will have to present the student to sound hasn't yet been introduced. The teachers will have to prompt the student to sound out the word the "funny way" before they tell them what the word is. They're not going to just give them words to memorize.

I'll forward both documents to you once each is completed. Let me know if you have any questions/concerns about the plan.

Hope to see you again soon,

Thank you so much for the analysis. We really appreciate your hard work on this. We didn't realize you were working on something similar either!

You mentioned to Joy that you are working on a recommendation for earlier introduction of some words. Question- Is this for this year OR a recommendation/scope and sequence moving forward? When might you have this?

We are meeting tomorrow with some teacher leaders to create a GCS Guideline document and I don't want to waste anyone's time creating a document that conflicts with yours. I totally don't mind scratching this plan... I just want to streamline our efforts! 😊

Thoughts appreciated~

Good morning,

I hope you are doing well and enjoying the first days of spring. Somehow, I missed that this information would be shared with the CFs you work with in GCS. We had a session yesterday with CFs about CKLA and sight words instruction at their monthly meeting. I am concerned about the timing of the GCS session and this email, as well as any mixed messages that may have unintentionally been communicated. We really need to be able to see what you plan to share in advance in order to avoid sending messages that do not align. Are you available for a call with my team on Monday at 4pm, so we can discuss what was shared yesterday and how we will move forward with communication in the future? Thank you for letting me know.

An analysis of the decodability levels of the books used for TRC was recently completed. This analysis examined what supplemental instruction may be necessary for sound-symbol correspondence and irregular words, given what is assessed on the TRC. Please forward the attached document to all K-2 teachers implementing CKLA so they are able to supplement their CKLA Skills with the suggested sounds and irregular words.

Hi, Joy,

I hope your week has passed by relatively smoothly. I had coaching meetings with each Gillespie Park teacher today, and a comment was made that their synchronous time is limited to 30 minutes for ELA in grades K-2, four times a week. I thought they had 1 hour for math and 1 hour for ELA, but they said they had 1 hour of live instruction total: 30 minutes for math and 30 minutes for ELA. They referred to the What Parents Need to Know document. Do they have the option of increasing the amount of their synchronous teaching time if wanted to do so?

I just got off of the phone with Mr. Travers. He likes the idea of splitting the teachers up and having them attend a different grade level's training so they don't have so many teachers out in one grade level at the same time. Half of the K-2 teachers will attend next week's training, and the other half will attend the 2nd grade session in September. I recommended that the stronger teachers attend next week's training so we can get the ball rolling with their implementation. Ms. Sluder will attend a half day each day of training, so I suggested that she come in the afternoon on Day 1 and the morning on Day 2.

So I think that we're all set, but if you hear differently, please let me know...

Crosswalk
Contract...

Please see the attached contract with the page numbers corrected on the contract for Montlie View, and Northwood.

I'll use the previously signed contract for the 11 rank order schools. Thank you.

I had noted the error and had changed the year to 2021 on the copy I had returned to you on April 17th for the 11 schools. That copy should be correct (see attached).

I can sign another copy, but there's an issue with the contracts you just sent - there are two page 5s.

Good morning, Joy,

Either Thursday or Friday would be fine, preferably after 11:00 EST, if possible.

I thought that Washington was also planning on using CKLA in the upper grades next year. Did that change? Also, could we add intervention to the schedule, so you can update me on what the district is thinking in terms of programs for next year? Last time we talked, MTSS was still in the decision process.

Thanks!

Hi, Tiffany.

I hope you are doing well and your family is healthy. I think it would be good for us to connect this week about the following:

- Planning for virtual professional learning for CKLA
- Cone using CKLA in 3-5 grades
- Survey for CKLA in 3rd grade for all schools

Please let me know if any time Thursday or Friday (ET) afternoon works for you.
Thanks so much.

Good afternoon, Tiffany.

I hope you are doing well. When you have a moment, please give me a call on my cell phone. Washington Montessori has a unique circumstance that I would like to address with you to see we can determine next steps for them with CKLA training. The school has the following staff members who still need training with you:

Kinder: 3

1st grade: 2

2nd grade: 2

Also, the CF, AP, and principal have not been in any sessions with you.

After we talk, I will follow-up with the principal, Mr. Travers.

Thanks so much and I look forward to speaking with you soon about the best way to support
