

In Reference to this public records request:

- ✓ I apologize this took as long as it did.
- ✓ This request was very time intensive and we ran into problems getting Microsoft Outlook to print the emails in an organized manner.
- ✓ We eventually had to have an IT company assistance to help us fulfil this request.
- ✓ On a normal day, the county's monument doesn't cost us anything.
- ✓ When there is a protest event, it causes us to have more citizens to keep safe.
- ✓ SPD's function during these type events are on public safety rather than the safety of the monument or county property. The JCSO focused more on the safety of county property.
- ✓ Generally, SPD personnel was assigned to work posts at intersections on the march route, and the JCSO personal was mostly assigned to work on county property.
- ✓ A few emails have been intentionally left out, per our town attorney. The content of those emails would reveal information about matters that are still part of official investigations. These emails did not included anything to do with costs of the event or manpower levels.

Hello Chief,

Thank you for your assistance with our last protest.

Your officers did a great job for us that day.

We have a confederate monument protest scheduled this Saturday from 1-3pm.

We will brief at SPD at 10:30am, and then feed the officers before they go to their post that morning.

I have instructed that Sylva PD officers be on the "front lines" dealing with protesters, before any officers from other departments.

I expect the event to end at around 4:00pm.

I'd like to request 2 officers from your agency to assist.

I am happy to answer any questions you may have (828) 406-2254.

Well you know as well as I do, you can't make everyone happy but I would rather make a few mad by issuing the permits than to be caught up in courts and several lawsuits for the rest of my career. And not have any money to enjoy once I did retire. Lol. Your doing fine Chief. Keep your head up and press on. This too shall pass.

This email has been sent to all of SPD, and town staff.

Hello everyone,

I hope everybody is happy and healthy.

I recommend you read the article below.

<https://www.commondreams.org/news/2020/07/03/civil-rights-groups-sue-nc-city-over-law-effectively-bans-any-protest>

A federal judge quickly overruled the Town of Graham in this situation and used to constitution's right to assemble as the justification. And when the judge made the decision, it sparked a massive protest in their town. No doubt, a protest their police had no voice in planning.

Their protest occurred on the same day as our last event. The event in Graham was so large, the SHP sent 50 Troopers to help manage it.

No doubt, there will be lawsuits.

This is important right now in our town. This is why I'm leading SPD to be open to peaceful protests. These events are protected by our constitution. We can't assure people's safety if we have no idea what's going to happen during their event.

You may hear from people in our community who don't have this knowledge, they are making comments for me to "just stop issuing permits." This clearly isn't a solution.

These are tough times, many of us are feeling frustration over these events. I know you're tired, we all are. I hope this will help explain our strategy and reasoning. We are our town's guardians. This is our job, our community needs us more right now than ever.

Any questions, please let me know.

Thank you for being steadfast and keeping SPD strong.

Thanks,
Chief

Thank you sir, we will pass to the patrol. It will be extremely important that they include as much detail as possible in the request to include specifics of what local and mutual aid resources. Our understanding is the patrol and especially the NG are to be last resort resources, so every detail they can provide helps with the justification and approval process.

We also have another county requesting MFF in the central branch at the same time and that is under review with the patrol currently.

Good Afternoon,

I wanted to give everyone a heads up as soon as possible that there will be an event on July 11 from 1300-1500 which will likely require folks to come in to work. At this time I'm not sure what we're going to need staffing wise but please be aware you may be asked to work on Saturday July 11. Unless you'd previously scheduled vacation you may be asked to come into work that day. Please make plans to be available if needed.

Hello Chief,

Congratulations on your new Chief position!

I was hoping to have conversations and maybe coffee before ever having to ask for your help, but that's not how its happened.

We have a confederate monument protest scheduled this Saturday from 1-3pm.

We will brief at SPD at 11am, and then feed the officers before they go to their post.

I have instructed that Sylva PD officers be on the "front lines" dealing with protesters, before any officers from other departments.

I expect the event to end at around 4:00pm.

I'd like to request 2 officers from your agency to assist.

I understand that may be difficult, so please just send what you can.

You are free to join at our command post area, if you'd like that day.

I am happy to answer any questions you may have (828) 406-2254.

OPERATION: SHIELD WALL

The Tuesday Report 7/7/2020 N.C Edition Vol. 1

Introduction

Operation: Shield Wall is a movement designed to coordinate intel sharing between pro police, anti-Anarchist citizens and law enforcement agencies. The purpose is to keep police departments up to date on current news, events, groups, suspicious activity, and movements within the region that are on board with the destruction of the United States Government. These groups promote anarchy and infiltration of local, state, and federal agencies. These groups engage in harassment, violence, and calling for murder of law enforcement agencies and entities that oppose of their views from politicians to the average citizen. This information is intended to help police officers protect themselves by helping them identify activity and aid them in risk assessment and situational awareness during these times of civil unrest.

All information provided has been researched and sources will be cited. Information is open to revision and change as new information is discovered and the former is obsolete due to changes within the various factions of the Anarchist movements. This information is carefully put together with the following in mind:

1. Respect for people's Constitutional Rights
2. Acknowledgment of the existence of non-anarchist, nonviolent movements that are striving for equal rights for marginalized groups of people.
3. Not every protester or demonstrator is a member of an anarchist group.
4. Not every anarchist group subscribes to the ideology of AntiFa or Anti-Fascist Action.
5. Not every individual that identifies as Anti-Fascist is necessarily an Anarchist. Some identify as socialists, Democratic Socialists, Marxists, and Communists. Others have simply adopted radical social justice views but are against violence and destruction.
6. Not all anarchists are Left Wing.
7. The different ideologies that fall within or are in partnership with various Anarchist movements.
8. Various organizers and names within these movements must be thoroughly researched to avoid false accusations.
9. The difference between theory and fact must be articulated. There are a lot of hoaxes, assumptions, rumors, and conclusions being drawn within various communities to fear monger people.
10. Topics that require further investigation to be marked as such so agencies can utilize their resources if need be to prove or disprove their authenticity.

We hope that you find this information useful and we look forward to helping you build a resource library to aid in education, training, network with other agencies, and establish safe points of contact for terrified citizens to voice their concerns.

The Birth of The Anti-Fascist Action Movement

Originally known as Antifaschistische Aktion. The name was coined during the street fights of the 1932 Weimar Republic in Germany. It was founded by the Stalinist Communist Party of Germany (KPD), although various Communist “anti-fascist defense” units were associated with the KPD previously. Their purpose was to help the KPD combat other political parties for control of the streets in the revolutionary politics of the collapsing Weimar Republic. While the group brawled it out with actual Nazis, they also targeted liberal parties, conservative parties, and any person or entity that tried to subvert or stop their activities through means of Anarchy. Antifa boasts that they exist to serve as a tool of revolutionary politics.

Post WWII, AntiFa reestablished itself in Germany around the 1980s, with the idea of Autonomism. Autonomism is an anti-authoritarian anarcho-Marxist ideology associated with the Communist urban guerilla organizations of 1970s and '80s Europe like Red Army Faction and the Red Brigade.

Establishment in the United States

According to Antifa history, an effort by young punks to expel neo-Nazis from the punk rock and metal music scene led to the formation of Anti-Racist Action (ARA). This movement began in the Midwest and chapters formed in various cities. Despite what modern media cites, regional councils and networks were formed, such as the Midwest Anti-Fascist Network (MAFN) in 1995 and many still stand today.

However, there is a part of history that must be noted. There was a generation that supported and may have been present during the birth of the ARA. Acting former agents of the domestic terror group Weather Underground took to the young anti-racist punks in the formation of ARA. Also involved were members of the John Brown Anti-Klan Committee (JBAKC).

JBAKC was formed as a front for the May 19th Communist Organization (MCO), itself founded out of the remnants of the Weather Underground, Black Liberation Army, the FALN and other terrorist groups of the '60s and '70s. The MCO emphasized working for “black liberation” and were responsible for several bombings and robberies in the 1980s. This includes the infamous 1981 Brinks Armored Car Robbery. JBAKC used its newsletter “Death to the Klan!” to highlight street fighting with Klansmen, accuse Reagan officials of white supremacy, endorse MCO bank robberies as “expropriation,” and promote communist insurgencies taking place in Nicaragua and El Salvador. This was all done under the guise of “fighting white supremacy.” Does this sound familiar?

So how does this tie in? Several separate ARAs (Anti-Racist Action) in the United States formed one of the largest Antifa networks in the country: Torch Antifa. The Torch Antifa or Torch Network is an umbrella name for a collective of other Antifa groups in the United States that boast as being their most militant and radical. These factions include Rose City Antifa who are responsible for the physical attack on journalist Andy Ngo, Antifa Seven Hills

Antifa members are likely to have ties to political organizations with Antifa support committees such as the Democratic Socialists of America (DSA), The International Workers of the World (Wobblies), the Revolutionary Communist Party (RCP), or any number of other local and regional radical Left organizations or collectives. Antifa draws resources and recruits from them all.

Several separate ARAs would go on to form one of the largest Antifa networks in the country. Torch Antifa, who boasts to be the more militant factions of Antifa has a website registered by a former JBAKC member.

Torch Antifa is the umbrella group to a cluster of other ARA and Antifa groups that include Rose City Antifa who is responsible for the attack on journalist Andy Ngo, Antifa Seven Hills who participated in violence and rioting in Charlotte, Charlottesville Unite the Right and the Inauguration Day rioting in DC after Donald Trump's Election. The list of chapters under Torch also include WNC Antifa which do have a presence in Buncombe and surrounding counties. Chapters

Chapters are autonomous organizing bodies that agree to the 5 points of the Torch Network. They may call themselves whatever they want, and can organize the best way they see fit. We work together to confront fascism and oppression. Below are a list of chapters within the Torch network.

Contrary to the radical left and the mainstream media claims that Antifa is just an ideology that does not have any organized bodies, there are chapters and groups. The Torch Website is proof that this is an organized Anarchist effort. In Volume 2, we will get into a deeper view of the history of communism, Marxism, and anarchy in North Carolina and throughout Appalachia. We will also explore its modern-day presence on the East Coast.

Asheville, NC & Fire Storm Books

Asheville, NC located in Buncombe County has boasted itself to being a progressive city that is the sister city to Portland, Oregon. Asheville, NC is home to major entities in the radical left and anarchist scene. Fire Storm Books which was originally Fire Storm Books & Coffee before moving to their location at 610 Haywood Rd. is an Anarchist bookstore managed by Evan Scott also known as Libertie Valence. Fire Storm is a nonprofit that is self-described as an Anarchist collective where they hold many fund raisers, groups, work shops and speaking engagements targeted at the “radical” mindset audience. Fire Storm has also had a history of employing (paid volunteers) who have actively participated with local protests and who are openly members of the Asheville Anti-Racist Action and other Anti Fascists. Here we have a picture of Mary Elizabeth Shrom who according to several sources, is one of the local leaders of the Anarchist and Anti-Fascist Movements here in the area. Fire Storm Books is also listed in a directory of worldwide “Radical” group locations called The Slingshot Collective.

To the average person, Asheville Anti-Racism's (like other ARA bodies) tactics of outing local supposed Nazis and white supremacists is viewed as a public service and a heroic endeavor. Average conservatives are also becoming targets. They often exaggerate truths and details about a person in order to demonize them to the public, so their target then becomes the target to the angry mob. However, the publishing of a person's information such as address, employer information, license plates, family members names, and phone numbers has led to several accounts of:

- Harassment
- Stalking
- Violence
- Vandalism of personal property
- False DSS claims
- Calls to a person's employer up to 100 times per day
- Calls to a person's landlord up to 100 times per day
- Harassing emails and messages to family members of their target
- Stalking of family members and friend of their target

There have been past instances where someone not affiliated with any right wing movement or white supremacist group has been targeted, doxed and harassed for simply being conservative and speaking in opposition to their local efforts such as The Steady Collective Needle Exchange that is chaired by a local Antifa participant Hillary Brown and community organizer Veronica Coit. The Steady Collective does run their needle exchange operations out of Fire Storm and other locations. Hillary has a past arrest record of vandalism of the Lee and Vance Monuments while Veronica Coit has become a local organizer in the radical community. We will discuss The Steady Collective in a future edition of this series.

Fire Storm Books hosts what is called the Another Carolina Anarchist Bookfair every summer. Fire Storm boasts that they are a "collective" which means other businesses and entities participate in their events such as The Moth Light, The Odditorium, and other local businesses located in Asheville. Fire Storm has also had its share of nefarious characters and antigovernment activity related work shops and seminars aside from their yearly book fair. They have hosted events in participation with Anarchist groups from Chapel Hill, NC and other regions regarding the topics of Resisting ICE, How NOT to deal with the FBI, Marxism, and other left-wing movements.

Revisiting Their Old Roots of the Weathermen Underground

We will dig deeper into these events at Fire Storm in the future, but one key event that points into the direction of their dangerous connections is an event held in April of 2017 at Fire Storm books. "Demand the Impossible!" named after a book authored by Bill Ayers.

Apr 5th, 2017

Bill Ayers / Demand the Impossible!

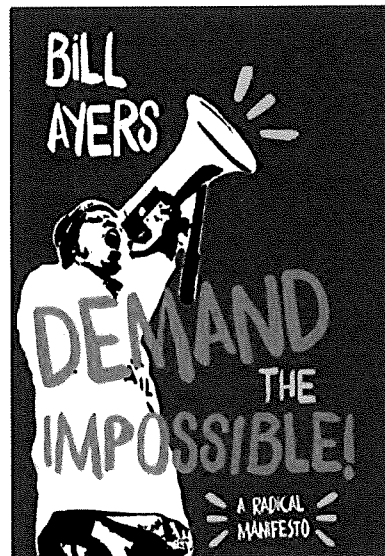

Join us as we welcome Bill Ayers, here on a national tour to celebrate the release of his latest book, Demand the Impossible: A Radical Manifesto. This event will be co-sponsored and hosted by our friends at Rainbow Community School.

In an era defined by mass incarceration, endless war, economic crisis, catastrophic environmental destruction, and a political system offering more of the same, radical social transformation has never been more urgent. We must imagine a world beyond what this rotten system would have us believe is possible.

In critiquing the world around us, Ayers uncovers cracks in the system, raising our sights for radical change, and envisioning strategies for building a movement to create a more humane, balanced, and peaceful world.

Bill Ayers is a social justice activist, teacher, Distinguished Professor of Education (retired) at the University of Illinois at Chicago, and author of two memoirs, Fugitive Days and Public Enemy.

In anticipation of a large crowd, this presentation will be taking place in the Rainbow auditorium at 60 State Street, a block from Firestorm!

Bill Ayers was one of the leading members of the Weather Underground. Bill Ayers, along with Bernardine Dohrn, Jeff Jones, and Celia Sojourn collaborated on ideas and published a manifesto: Prairie Fire: The Politics of Revolutionary Anti-Imperialism. The Weather Underground sought to advance communism through violent revolutionary anarchism, and the group called on America's youth to create a rearguard action against the U.S. government hoping to bring its downfall.

Weatherman launched an offensive during the summer of 1969. In the Northeast, it tried to recruit members at community colleges and high schools by marching into classrooms, tying up and gagging teachers, and presenting revolutionary speeches. At the Harvard Institute for International Affairs, the group smashed windows, tore out phones, and assaulted professors.

From October 8 to 11, 1969, Weatherman worked to organize thousands of young people in a direct assault on the police, whom they called "pigs." The group called this a "National Action," but newspapers called it "Days of Rage." In modern day, you will hear words such as "Direct Action" and "Days of Rage" in the current social justice and Anti Fascist movements.

According to the FBI, Weatherman members began bombing targets across the country in 1970, using tactics from the handbook Firearms and Self-Defense: A Handbook for Radicals, Revolutionaries, and Easy Riders and from Brazilian Marxist writer and terrorist Carlos Marighella's Minimanual of the Urban Guerrilla. Larger targets included the New York City Police Department headquarters, the Presidio army base in San Francisco, a Long Island City courthouse, and several banks in Boston and New York. Most of the bombings were preceded by a warning, to prevent casualties, and were followed by a communiqué, dubbed "Weather Report." Weatherman used these "Weather Reports" to justify attacks, citing recent police and government actions such as the Kent State shootings, which involved the killing of four students by the Ohio National Guard at Kent State University, or the unlawful incarceration of other revolutionaries. The reports also often commemorated revolutionary efforts throughout the world. By year's end, several Weatherman members had made it onto the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list, which had been expanded to 16 to accommodate them.

The bombings continued throughout 1971. Weatherman placed two bombs at the Capitol in Washington, D.C., both of which exploded on March 1. In August, the group attacked three offices of the California prison system after the mysterious murder of prison revolutionary George Jackson in the San Quentin prison yard. Two weeks later, after 30 inmates were killed in a revolt at New York's Attica penitentiary, Weatherman bombed the office of the state commissioner of corrections in Albany.

The activity of the anarchist movements throughout Asheville are not something to be joked about or not taken seriously. As you can see, they have connections to domestic terrorists and their ideology has not changed much since the 60's and 70's. In 2016, the Republican GOP building in Hillsboro was firebombed by alleged Anarchists springing forth the "NC Resists The Grand Jury" movement in relation to a known anarchist named Katie Yow refusing to testify in court regarding the attack on the GOP building. Hillsboro is close to Chapel Hill, Durham, Carrboro and Raleigh. UNC Chapel Hill is in this region and has a history of Marxist and Anarchist agendas dating as far back as the 1900's. We will be discussing the correlation between Asheville, Chapel Hill and the history of these groups in upcoming volume 2. There will be a lot of mention of Fire Storm Books in this series.

End of Watch Thursday, January 23, 2020

Police Officer Katie Thyne died after being dragged by a vehicle while conducting an investigation. She and her partner were investigating reports of drug activity when they approached a car along the 1400 block of 16th Street in Newport News. During the investigation, the driver sped off, dragging Police Officer Thyne for a block. The vehicle struck a tree, and Officer Thyne was pinned between the tree and the vehicle door. Police Officer Thyne served with the Newport News Police Department for approximately one year and had previously served with the United States Navy.

Thank you sir, we will pass to the patrol. It will be extremely important that they include as much detail as possible in the request to include specifics of what local and mutual aid resources. Our understanding is the patrol and especially the NG are to be last resort resources, so every detail they can provide helps with the justification and approval process.

We also have another county requesting MFF in the central branch at the same time and that is under review with the patrol currently.
