Any member that have identified anything that should be changed or added to the by-laws that were recently discussed, submit those proposals to me by close of business (5pm) TOMORROW, May 26. I will make adjustments to what has been put in writing and have my attorney re-evaluate them. As SOON as I hear back from him, we will hold a vote to approve.

End of discussion.

Let me clarify. I am not suggesting that we table the amendments to the bylaws that were agreed-upon in the April meeting until September.

I am suggesting that any new amendments such as the ones just brought up today be tabled until September.

The frustration on my part is the fact that we worked on these bylaws for most of this year and were to a point where we all agreed on them so much so that they were sent to an attorney for approval.

Now at the 11th hour issues are being brought forward in an attempt to delay the approval of these amended bylaws until after June 1 which coincidentally is the deadline for the letters of intent.

It feels like games are being played.

Dallas,
I agree, suggesting tabling it until the new board is seated makes sense. Why not do that, hold off on all voting and changes until our September meeting and make that the first order of business.

What have we been doing all year? Am I mistaken or were the changes not already decided upon at the April meeting?

Anything further needs to be tabled until the new president takes office.

At the proper time; I'd like to discuss adding the changes/updates to the By-Laws

I make the motion to approve the revised bylaws sent out by Scott Drew on May 28 for everyone to review.

It is my understanding the revisions do not have to be looked over by an attorney and we have had ample time to review the current changes.
