I believe in the power of community and supporting one another to achieve a common goal. I believe that it is extremely important to understand history in order to understand where we are going forward in our world.

I graduated in 2017 with a Bachelor's Degree in Archaeology and Anthropology. I participated in a field school in which we were trained on Section 106, conducted field surveys and shovel test pits, and additionally worked with the local Hochunk-Winnebago tribe to repatriate the artifacts found.

Since graduating, I moved to Western North Carolina and worked with a small nonprofit, Muddy Sneakers. This organization allowed me to build deeper roots in this mountain community through networking events and various outreach initiatives. I started first as the Administrative Assistant and was promoted to Outreach Associate within a couple of years. This opportunity provided me with extensive nonprofit management experience as well as fundraising, marketing, and grant writing experience.

This past summer, my fiance and I bought a house in East Waynesville. We wanted to build deeper roots as we begin a new chapter of our lives together. While we love Asheville, we wanted to be just outside the hustle and bustle of city life, and chose to live just a bit further out of town. Additionally, I began a new job at The American Chestnut Foundation as their new Communications Coordinator.
