Ok. I'm not sure if you have heard anything, but they are having some issues. I'm trying to find our contract with them right now.

I'm not certain on this, but I don't think they would be considered a committee or council of the town, and I don't think independently they "exercise a legislative, policy-making, quasi-judicial, administrative, or advisory function." I don't think they are subject to the open meetings requirement.

Is the fire department board meeting subject to open meeting laws since they are contract with the town?
